Part III: Reading Comprehension

Bitcoin is a new currency that was created in 2009 by an unknown person using the false name Satoshi Nakamoto. Transactions are made with no middlemen, meaning no banks. Bitcoin can be used to book hotels, shop for furniture, and buy Xbox games. The price of bitcoin skyrocketed into the thousands of dollars in 2017.

Bitcoin can be used to buy merchandise anonymously, which means buyers' identities are not revealed. In addition, international payments are easy and cheap because bitcoins are not tied to any country or subject to regulation. Small businesses may like them because there are no credit cards fees. Some people just buy bitcoins as an investment, hoping that they will go up in value.

No one knows what will become of bitcoin. It is mostly unregulated, but some countries like Japan, China and Australia have begun considering regulations. Governments are concerned about taxation and their lack of control over the currency.

(d) Bitcoin is not associated with any country.
75. Small businesses like bitcoins because they _____.
(a) pay less card fees (c) don't pay fees
(b) pay with credit cards (d) don't have credit

The Olympic Winter Games are a major international sporting event held once every four years, for sports practiced on snow and ice. The first Winter Olympics, the 1924 Winter Olympics, were held in Chamonix, France. The Olympic Games were inspired by the ancient Olympic Games, which were held in Olympia, Greece, from the 8th century BC to the 4th century AD. Baron Pierre de Coubertin founded the International Olympic Committee (IOC) in 1894, leading to the first modern Games in Athens in 1896. The IOC is the governing body of the Olympic Movement, with the Olympic Charter defining its structure and authority. The original five sports (broken into nine disciplines) were bobsleigh, curling, ice hockey, Nordic skiing (consisting of the disciplines military patrol, cross-country skiing, Nordic combined, and ski jumping), and skating (consisting of the disciplines figure skating and speed skating). The Games were held every four years from 1924 to 1936, interrupted in 1940 and 1944 by World War II, and resumed in 1948. Until 1992 the Winter and Summer Olympic Games were held in the same years, but, in accordance with a 1986 decision by the IOC to place the Summer and Winter Games on separate four-year cycles in alternating even-numbered years, the next Winter Olympics after 1992 was in 1994.

79. When was the decision made to separate the Summer and Winter Olympic Games into different four-year cycles?
(a) 1948 (c) 1986
(b) 1992 (d) 1896
80. According to the passage, the Olympic games occur on alternating _____.
(a) odd numbered years (c) two years from 1924 to 1936
(b) even numbered years (d) 8th century BC to the 4th century AD

The Old English language of the Anglo-Saxons has given us our basic stock of English words: life, death, earth, heaven, sun, moon, day, night, black, white, broad, narrow, teach, learn, seek, find, fire, wood, hand, foot and so on.

Since medieval times English has adopted cultural loanwords from French. The early ones included attach, certain, chance, conquer, courage, language, money, place, pleasant, royal, money, sure, tender, and even a word as common now as very, which at first meant 'true'.

Modern loanwords from French come with their present French spelling and a close approximation to French pronunciation: collage, entourage, piquant, pirouette.

Technical terms for use in science are often derived from Latin or Greek. Aqueduct, subaquatic are Latinate counterparts in meaning to ordinary English waterway, underwater. Similarly, Greek elements make up scientific terms such as photosynthesis, polyglot, and pyromania.

That leaves a whole array of loanwords from other languages: kayak is from Eskimo, felucca is from Arabic by way of Italian, and tobacco is from Arawak, an American-Indian language.

81. English words that are used for basic concepts come from _____.
(a) Old English (c) French
(b) Latin (d) Greek
82. English words like head, finger, nail, tooth are likely to come from _____.
(a) Greek (c) French
(b) Latin (d) Old English
83. English words like maquillage, détente, croissant, consommé were probably borrowed _____.
(a) about 2500 years ago (c) about 1000 years ago
(b) about 2000 years ago (d) about 100 years ago
84. It is useful to understand Greek words if you are a _____.
(a) chemist (c) plumber
(b) chef (d) driver
85. According to the passage, which statement is false?
(a) Scientific words often come from Latin or Greek.
(b) The Arawak language comes from India.
(c) English borrowed words from more than six languages.
(d) English borrowed the word felucca from Italian, which itself borrowed it from Arabic.
